Ashes & Urns

Following a cremation, the ashes are returned to our company for safe keeping. From here, one of our Funeral Directors will contact the family to ascertain their wishes in relation to uplifting the ashes, or assist them in considering options for memorialisation. A selection of urns are on the following pages. We have many more on display at all three of our funeral homes to choose from.

Flowers

Flowers are often the part of a funeral most people recollect when remembering the funeral service.

They provide a focus for the mourners attending. We are able to arrange flowers on behalf of the family and our flowers are delivered fresh daily from our florist. Pictured on these pages are a few of the most popular styles of flowers chosen for funerals. However, our florist can create any type of arrangement you may wish and any colour or flower combinations that you prefer.

At the conclusion of the funeral service flowers may stay with the casket, be taken home by family members or given to a rest home or hospice that may have cared for the deceased.

The selection on these pages shows our most frequently requested floral arrangements. All arrangements come in a variety of sizes.

Casket Spray

A floral arrangement frequently chosen by families. Available in the colour and flower combination of your choice. Visually, the casket spray is higher in the centre and tapers at each end to complement the length of the casket.

There are many styles of flower arrangements to choose from.

Open Sheaf

A more contemporary arrangement designed as a single ended casket spray. Available in the colour and flower combination of your choice.

Informal Cross

A floral design in the form of a cross. This design may have a religious significance for some families. Available in the colour and flower combination of your choice.

Native Casket Spray

This contemporary flower and foliage arrangement would suit the nature lover or home gardener. This spray can be personalised with the use of flowers, native foliage and vegetables if desired.
