

PICK OF THE BUNCH

AUGUST 2011

Going on a Date? It's a four letter word! So lets just meet for a drink. Sounds like a lot more fun, no expectations, no labels. Leaves you open to enjoy the conversation, the company, the wine, the venue, and maybe even the person you just met. If it was good and you think maybe you would like to know more? Catch up again, it's a great way to find out more! Then maybe if your both on the same page, break out the four lettered word and go on a DATE!

«We were having one of those great first dates you can only have when it's not actually a date.» SJP

Recycle your Ex!

He may not have been your cup of tea, but he's a great guy, then pass him on! Guys if you have some single mates, get their Bananas Up and both of you receive a FREE introduction.

It is a hard job finding the perfect Bananal

Thank you for your Patience

Bananas Up is going for strength to strenght, with numbers building every week. So thank you for your support and patience and if you haven't been on an introduction it shouldn't be long now.

