with a difference

Are you passionate and ready for a dental care experience with a difference?

In Dentistry every person is unique in what they need and desire.

Angela endeavours to have clear communication so that your main priority and concerns are dealt with when you have a Dental visit.

Angela Lowe-Ho was the first NZ-born Chinese female to graduate from the University of Otago Dental School and set up in private practice. Since then she has avidly undertaken advanced dental professional development courses and has served on a number of Auckland Dental Association committees.

In 2013 around twelve Dentists were chosen to be part of the New Zealand Dental Association NZDA Oral History program. Angela Lowe-Ho was privileged to be part of this group of Dentists, recognised as having a unique view of Dentistry. The oral interview tapes are edited and stored at the Hocken Library.

Another exciting development for 2014 is the new NZDA Mentor-Mentee scheme and Angela has volunteered her services to be a mentor for this scheme.

Angela has taken her four decades of experience and incorporated solutions and strategies which empower and encourage her patients toward health, wellness and optimal function. She can help you make lifestyle and dietary changes which will improve your oral and overall health. Often an aesthetically pleasing appearance and smile is requested and necessary. For the last fifteen years, Angela has used minimal intervention, reinforcement and Dental artistry skills to build crowns, bridges and smiles.

Dental diseases are lifestyle diseases so if you have a Dental problem eg pain, bleeding gums, broken filling, wisdom teeth infection and you really want to stay well and healthy, ring Angela, check us out.

Don't put it off like I did...

A childhood accident (and inconsiderate orthodontics) had left my front teeth uneven and ugly, causing me much embarrassment and affecting my self esteem for over 20 years.

Before I saw Angela Lowe-Ho, my front teeth consisted of one oversized crown with black discoloration around the gum line – and the other tooth which had been orthodontically moved into the front tooth position was tiny and uneven.

After reading the rave testimonials on Angela's website about her ability to make 'something out of nothing' I decided to visit her to see what she could do for me. After all, I figured I had nothing to lose – I had been quoted $11,000 and major surgery to give me two 'new' front teeth by my previous dentist.

To be honest, I didn't expect any improvement from the initial consultation with Angela. But as she checked out the health of my mouth and discussed her low cost, user-friendly options for improving my smile, she filed my oversized crown down and adjusted the surrounding teeth to make my smile more even.

I left that initial appointment feeling hopeful and inspired. I liked the way Angela would always ask me, "What is most important to you right now? What bothers you the most?" and then she would deal with that problem immediately.

The second visit dealt with increasing the size of the tiny tooth which had been moved into a front tooth position. That day I left feeling like I had a 'normal' smile.

On my third visit, she dealt with the major issue of the obtrusive crowned tooth -removing the black discoloration which had bothered me for years, repairing the poorly created crown and improving the aesthetics of the tooth to make it even.

Even though that third visit went considerably over the allocated time; Angela refused to charge me more than she had initially quoted me – which in total was a fraction of the cost my previous dentist had quoted.

Now, everywhere I go, I check out people's smiles because I know how it feels to have awful looking teeth transformed into a wonderfully even and beautiful smile. I recommend Angela's dental artistry at every opportunity.

If you're looking for a dentist who is capable of addressing every problem in your mouth, then Angela Lowe-Ho has my highest recommendation. Angela is passionate about every aspect of dentistry and is dedicated and committed to helping you look and feel your best. Pick up the phone and call her now.
